News of Dr Livingstone

NEW YORK July 1 The Herald [illegible] London dispatch [illegible] from Stanley [illegible] the following [illegible] where [illegible] September last he intended [illegible] but Mirambo king of Unyanyembe [illegible] declared [illegible] that he should pass [illegible] over his body. The Arabs declared war and [illegible] I gave them assistance the [illegible] day [illegible] with the Arabs attacked [illegible] captured killed and drove away the inhabitants. The third day the Arabs were ambushed and routed with terrific slaughter. On the fourth day there was a desertion of the Arabs. My way, after considerable difficulty reached the suburbs of Ujiji. I entered bring guns and carrying the American flag. The astonished natives flocked out in crowds with deafening cheers. I noticed in the center of a group of Arabs and strangely contrasting with their sunburnt faces a pale looking gray bearded white man wearing a navy cap with gold bands, red woolen shirt preserving a demeanor of calmness before the Arabs I said it was Dr Livingstone I presumed. He smilingly answered yes. He informed me that he started in March 1866 with twelve Sepoys nine Johanna men and seven men liberated slaves and traveled up the banks of the Rovuma and his men got frightened and deserted and reported Livingstone dead as an excuse for the desertion. He crossed the Chambezi and found it to be not contiguous to the Zambesi, but a wholly separate river and he found it was called Farther or Lualaba. He explored 700 miles and found that the Zambesi is doubtless the source of the Nile and that the length of the Nile is about 2,600 miles. It is not supplied by Lualaba. He reached within 180 miles of the explored ground when he was obliged to return to Ujiji destitute. Here we met and we both left on the [illegible] of October and arrived at Unyanyembe at the end of December. We spent twenty eight days in exploring the district together. Livingstone is at Unyanyembe to explore the mouth of Tanganyika lake and the remaining 180 miles of the Lualaba river. This will occupy the next two years

The German Zollverein

The German Zollverein was founded in 1828 by the association of Prussia and the Grand Dutchy of Hessen for the purpose of levying uniform customs duties upon merchandise imported from abroad and abolishing all interior custom houses between the countries. Soon after, other German States came into the Union, and finally all the States of Germany enrolled themselves as members of the Zollverein. They thus became commercially one country like the States of the American Union imposing no duties upon trade with each other but protecting their own industry and raising a revenue which was proportionally distributed among them by levying duties on foreign manufactures. Since the political unity of Germany has been secured by merging all these States into the Empire, under William King of Prussia and Emperor of Germany the Zollverein has been superseded by a royal decree which declares Germany to be one customs and commercial territory surrounded by a common frontier. The protective theory upon which the Zollverein was originally founded is still retained somewhat modified to suit a change of circumstances. The result of this theory applied for a little less than fifty years in Germany has been a vast development of her productive and manufacturing industry. The German States before their political unity was established saw the necessity of regarding themselves as commercially one country and organizing the Zollverein for the mutual protection of their own industry against the superior productive skill and cheaper labor of other countries. They adopted a tariff upon foreign products for the protection of home products [illegible] and the immense industrial commercial and military growth of these States under this theory fully demonstrates its wisdom. The Free Traders of this country who so loudly denounce the doctrine of a protective tariff would do well to study the history of the German Zollverein established in 1828. It has proved a vast blessing to the German States. The Emperor William has no idea of substituting free trade for that which has given such a wonderful development to the industry and skill of the German race. This country could hardly make a greater mistake than that of opening its ports free of duty to the commerce of the world

[illegible] GREELEY AND [illegible] STATES [illegible]

[illegible] Tribune [illegible] the Cincinnati Convention

The [illegible] gold which have been steadily [illegible] rapidly going down during the past fortnight till yesterday till the premium reached the vicinity of 113 [illegible] the greater part of the day a few fractions above that point but at one time striking a fraction below it. The quotations of government bonds indicated during the day that they were on the verge of par in gold most of the varieties being worth but little less than gold while one variety was at a gold premium over its face value

That the day of which we are able to chronicle these highly favorable financial facts was also the day that marks the termination of the first half of President Grant's administration of public affairs is a circumstance which the country will not lose sight of, and which the friends of the President will observe with unfeigned joy

No one who has observed the fluctuations will believe that there is any more likelihood of gold returning to 130 than there is of it returning to 200. It has not gone down through speculative combinations but through the operation of general causes that are not within the control of the Gold Room.

The things, however, for which the administration deserves the highest credit in connection with the improvement in our financial condition, are such as relate to the carrying out of Grant's policy of honesty and retrenchment. When, by his election, the country and the world received assurances that the financial honor of the government would be maintained when the policy of repudiation was spurned by the people, and Congress gave its pledge to support the public credit by paying the principal and interest of the debt in gold, the first great steps toward financial redemption were taken. When Grant announced his brief and simple policy for remedying the confusion of our financial state when he began carrying out practically the programme he had announced—it was evident that we were about to take a long stride toward the settlement of our troubles. But a year's experience of this policy has gone far beyond public expectations. To say that the debt has been decreased during his administration a hundred millions of dollars is but to represent a small part of what has actually been achieved. To say that during the first half of the current year the revenues were increased by more faithful collection, at the rate of thirty millions a year over the previous year does not indicate the actual result gained for the public treasury. To say that the expenses of the government have been vastly reduced, and that the interest has been decreased by the diminution of the debt, is only to give a hint of the retrenchment that has been carried out. But these things have told with immense effect upon our financial condition and it is to the admirable policy and action of the Administration that we owe the improvement which is now going on to its consummation

A Democratic paper recently took the trouble to attempt to show that neither Grant nor his policy deserved any credit for the brightening financial outlook. But Grant and his policy deserve the very [illegible] credit. Suppose his policy had been of a very different kind from what it has been. Suppose he had collected the revenues in the negligent manner of which we had so much previous experience, suppose the debt had been increased as it was in the latter part of Johnson's administration—suppose the wasteful expenditure of Johnson's time had been continued—suppose we were experimenting with the greenback theory and the repudiation fraud—does any body suppose that our bonds would now be at or near par, or that gold would be quoted at the present price, or that our credit would stand where it does abroad? To ask the question is to answer it, and to show the absurdity of the reasoning of the Democratic organ

It is not by the display of any immense genius, or of any gigantic or mysterious "plan" that these great results have been wrought. It is by the carrying out of a few simple principles, the principles of honesty and economy, which President Grant announced one year ago. There can be no more beneficent natural genius than is found in the power to perceive and enforce those principles

English Quarantine

The Colonist at Victoria has the following in reference to the passengers on a late trip of the steamer Prince Alfred from San Francisco to that place, who were put in quarantine by the Victoria authorities

Nearly every evening the quarantined passengers indulge in vocal and instrumental music at Happy Valley, in which all the ladies and gentlemen join. Sometimes there is dancing, and occasionally boats filled with passengers are towed along the beach and the quarantined are invited to step aboard and be free. So far as can be learned no one has yet availed him or herself of the privilege offered—pretty good evidence that all are well fed and treated. It was reported last evening that the fair ones at quarantine had angled and caught a fish—a gudgeon—in the form of a young swell from the city. He approached the rope that marks the "dead line" and got up a conversation with one of the young ladies, who, nothing loth replied very politely to his inquiries as to her health etc. Presently the mischief loving girl said

"Won't you step across the line sir, and have a cup of tea?"

Without thinking of the consequences, he replied "Thank you!" and before you could have said "Jack Robinson" he stepped upon forbidden ground and was in the clutches of three of the Mayor's factotums who hustled him off to the fumigating house (which has been improvised as a watch house) and there he is now and must remain until Monday. And the worst of the story is that the Syren whose bright eyes enticed him across the line laughed loudly and merrily with the rest at his mishap

[illegible] MORNING, [illegible] 1872

Opinions Concerning Mr Greeley

[illegible] With th[illegible] Mr. [illegible] name of William [illegible] more, instead of Mr. Greeley. [illegible] probable, [illegible] that this [illegible] Bryant's [illegible] what the Evening Post, one of the [illegible] that created the "Liberal" [illegible] about Mr. Greeley:

Should Horace Greeley ever be President of the United States we firmly believe that the [illegible] tion and the crimes of an administration with a man at its head so weak in principle as he, so infirm of purpose as he, so imbecile of character as he, so surrounded by such a crew of adventurers, and cormorants, and knaves as would surround him—that the corruption and the crimes of such an administration would reach proportions that would put their perpetrators beyond the cognizance of ordinary Courts of law, and that would call for and compel other correction than ordinary penitentiaries can afford. Where the rebellious element and the corrupt element of the country are combined to gain possession of the Government, and on a false pretense, we may prepare ourselves for any calamity that in the course of human events can possibly befall any people in their political relations with each other and the world.

This, certainly, is plain speaking. There needs no gloss or comment to interpret it. Now let us quote what another leading journal has said about Mr. Greeley. This journal is the Chicago Tribune. It has identified itself with the so-called "Liberal" movement, and has been forced into a position from which it cannot go back. It is therefore compelled to support Mr. Greeley, whom it has heretofore decryed and opposed. This is what it said of him some time before the Cincinnati Convention, when he was a candidate for United States Senator in New York:

Horace Greeley is not now, and never has been, a man who ought to be trusted with an official position requiring practical wisdom, ordinary statesmanship, or firm, consistent action. For twenty-five years he has been a marplot in council; an unreliable commander in action, a misanthrope in victory, and a riotous disorganizer in defeat. He has always been fanatical in his demands for the extremest measures, and when the party has reached the eve of triumph, invariably thrusts himself forward as a negotiator of terms of surrender to the enemy. His course during the war was but a repetition of his course in politics. In 1861 he was an open defender of secession, he changed to a vigorous champion of the war, and thereafter was forever recklessly making proposals for peace and as recklessly withdrawing them—making war in spite of Mars, and negotiating in spite of Minerva.

For twenty years he has been an uncompromising advocate for a square fight with the pro-slavery party, and when that kind of a fight was forced upon the Republicans, in 1860, he was here in Chicago, voting not for Lincoln, nor for Chase, but for old Edward Bates, of Missouri, one of the fossils of the slave party. He was then the associate and colaborer of that other impracticable and unreliable squad—the Blair family. The country at this time wants no inspired Harlequins in the national councils. Still less does it want men with statesmanship so microscopic that they can see nothing in public business but the mileage and per diem of their fellow members. If Mr. Greeley is not satisfied with his position as a journalist—a position which ought to be equal in point of influence, power and dignity to that of six average Senators—and if the Republicans of New York want to do something for him, let them make him State Prison Inspector, or even Governor; anything that will not make the outside of the State responsible for his follies.

These are as true words as were ever spoken of Mr. Greeley; yet we find the Chicago Tribune, the paper that uttered them, now supporting him for President of the United States!

The Atlantic Monthly is another publication which looked to Cincinnati for "reform," but which was disappointed and disgusted when Mr. Greeley was nominated. A writer in that periodical, who has contributed articles to its columns in opposition to Grant, and who went to Cincinnati as a delegate, says that he and his associates were "sold" in the nomination of Greeley, and that as between Greeley and Grant they must support Grant. The German vote, which was expected to be at the back of the movement, is wholly lost to Mr. Greeley, who will receive in November but few votes of any sort except those brought to him by the Democratic nomination at Baltimore, which nomination he will pretty certainly obtain. But it will not bring him the whole Democratic vote by any means. From ten to twenty per cent. of it will stay at home or vote for Grant.

The Yield of Wheat.

In a recent report the Agricultural Bureau estimates the wheat crop of the United States for the present year at 220,000,000 bushels. In 1870 the leading States yielded wheat as follows. We give the figures of the census, avoiding broken numbers:

Illinois	30,[illegible]
Iowa	29,400,000
Ohio	27,[illegible]
Indiana	27,[illegible]
Wisconsin	[illegible],500,000
Pennsylvania	19,[illegible]00,000
Minnesota	18,800,000
California	16,700,000
Michigan	16,200,000
Missouri	14,300,000
New York	12,[illegible]00,000
Virginia	7,400,000

Illinois now holds the first place among the wheat-producing States, a position which twenty years ago was held by Pennsylvania, a State which then produced nearly as much wheat as now. Ohio in 1850 was second, and Iowa was nowhere. Now Iowa is second, but Ohio still remains near the head of the list. Indiana was fourth in 1870, in 1860 she was second, and in 1850 she was sixth. The wheat product of Oregon in 1870 was 2,350,646 bushels. This was a much greater yield in proportion to population than that of the great wheat-producing States; and besides, our yield per acre was larger than that of any State in the Union. Ten years hence Oregon will stand among the first of the wheat-growing States.

The Jacksonville Times professes to fear that the Oregon and California Railroad will not be built to Rogue river valley at all. It imagines it sees indications that it will, after all, switch off at Eugene, and take the Pengra route. If this is so, the eighty miles of road constructed south of Eugene are thrown away, and will have to be taken up. We guess there is no danger.

The Washington Patriot, the [illegible] of the "National Democracy" [illegible] the enforcement of the two third rule at Baltimore. It says that if this [illegible] Greeley [illegible] the nominat[illegible] party, the dissatisfi[illegible] as to Mr. Greeley [illegible] into the Democratic party [illegible] the party usages.

Bainbridge Wadleigh, Republican, has been elected United States Senator from New Hampshire, to take his seat [illegible] of March next.

A Prayer for Oblivion

It is the opinion of the Herald that the "war spirit" should not be "revived" in the Presidential campaign. That paper deprecates such revival. It considers it deplorable. In fact it thinks that if the Republicans have nothing better to commend them [illegible] they had as well retire from the field. This is not the first time the [illegible] party has [illegible] such a policy. [illegible] retire from [illegible] the war. It pro[illegible] failure [illegible] and said it was [illegible] to persevere in it. What [illegible] that it now doesn't want the war spirit revived. It is the most natural thing in the world. Yet it may be as well to assure the [illegible] and all who, like it, are unable to comprehend the meaning of the war and its results, that the memories of the war will be great ruling forces in this country for centuries to come. Talk as you please against "raking up its embers," and enjoin silence upon its memories and achievements as often as you will, yet the war remains the greatest fact in American history, and the "war spirit" will exist and will shape the destinies of the country beyond a period which any now living will survive to see. The Democratic party has no history in connection with the war that it can be proud of, but it cannot persuade the party which won a proud history for that trying period to obliterate and forget it.

It is stated by the Jacksonville Times that Major Glenn, one of the delegates to the Baltimore Convention, has sent his proxy to Senator Kelly. That paper adds that though Glenn claims to be anti-Greeley, his vote will be cast by an avowed "Dolly Varden." So Democratic authority classes Kelly with the political traders who are trying to sell out their party.

Jasper W. Johnson, Jr., beyond all question and comparison, the finest specimen of the "Liberal Reform" agitator and leader that our incomparable free institutions have yet produced, has been making a speech at Camden, New Jersey.

The aggregate vote of the counties east of the Cascade mountains in the recent election was 4,377. Two years ago it was 3,750.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Washington Territory Baptist Association is now in session at Seattle.

Jas. H. Slater, who went to Congress from Oregon two years ago, was in Boise City on his way home on the 26th ult.

A sufficient quantity of rain has fallen in Montana lately to save farmers a great deal of labor in irrigating their farms.

The Messrs. Oppenheimer, of Colville, obtained the contract for supplying the Canadian Pacific Railroad survey parties on the upper Columbia.

A log rolled over the work oxen at Rossi's Mill in Boise valley week before last, killed one outright, and crippled two others so badly that they had to be killed.

A money order business to the amount of $525 50 in orders issued, and $408 in orders paid, was transacted at Boise City postoffice during the week ending June 22.

The strike of carpenters at Pumphrey's, on the Northern Pacific Railroad, did not get to be very extensive. A number of the men have returned to work at the old rates.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a large force engaged in setting out willow and cottonwood sprouts along the cuts where the snow was so troublesome last winter.

A young lady, daughter of Judge Bledsoe, of Boise City, was thrown from a horse at that place, on Sunday, June 16th, and was nearly killed, being rendered entirely unconscious for several hours.

Rev. Mr. Bagley informs the Courier that the Seattle coal is in such demand in San Francisco as to give the owners the command of the market and at their own just and reasonable figures. They are shipping one hundred tons daily from Seattle.

The Olympia Transcript says: "Of all the American harbors on the Pacific coast, Puget Sound is the only one to which vessels are exempted from extra rates of insurance. Vessels bound to San Francisco pay one per cent extra, and to the Columbia river three per cent. above the rate to Puget Sound."

The Boise Statesman of the 26th of June says that Gov. Bennett, Mr. Clytus Barbour, and several other gentlemen are going out to Camas Prairie to inquire into the conduct of the Bannock Indians, and see what is necessary to be done to allay the apprehensions of danger. Several deputations of the Shoshones have come in, and each time tell additional stories about the hostile feeling of the Bannocks, and corroborate the first report of the killing of one if not two white men. The people along the road to Little Camas are not feeling very safe, and have sent their women and children into Boise City for safety.

An Act in Relation to Bounties.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That every volunteer, non-commissioned officer, private, musician and artificer who enlisted into the military service of the United States prior to July twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, under the proclamation of the President of the United States of May third, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, and the orders of the War Department issued in pursuance thereof, and was actually mustered before August sixth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, into any regiment or battery which was accepted by the War Department under such proclamation and orders, shall be paid the full bounty of one hundred dollars, under and by virtue of the said proclamation and order of the War Department, in force at the time of such enlistment and prior to July twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-one: Provided That the same has not already been paid.

Approved, April 22, 1872.

Senator Corbett

The following is from the New York Times of the 20th June:

An evening Republican paper credits Mr. Corbett, United States Senator from Oregon, with being a Democrat and also a Greeley man. This is an amazing error. Mr. Corbett is a sound Republican, in no wise tainted with Greeleyism, who has been very active in organizing the party in his State. To the victory which determines the result of the elections in Oregon, California and probably Nevada, in November, he largely contributed.

A Nice Little Bill.—Our citizens may or may not have heard of the advertisement of the delinquent tax list. It was advertised, however, as the law requires, in the litigant organ. The organ charged no more for it than it had the legal right to charge, we suppose. The advertisement made something over fifty squares, perhaps fifty-six. At our summer[illegible] rates it would have cost the county around one hundred and forty-seven dollars. We would be glad to have our advertising space filled with similar advertisements at that price. The bill of the litigant organ was, however, somewhat larger than the sum we have named, if we remember rightly, a little over three hundred and eighty [illegible]. At the highest rates for composition [illegible] trade price for table work the cost of putting the advertisement in type did not exceed sixty-eight dollars. The proprietor, therefore, pocketed somewhere about two hundred and forty dollars for his profit. Who says the litigant law isn't a good thing—for litigant organs [illegible]?

SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

A company has been incorporated in New York, for the purpose of tunneling the East river. This is the first enterprise of the kind undertaken in America.

The Dominion Parliament voted [illegible] British Columbia: [illegible] lighthouses, $10,[illegible]; customs salaries, $20,000; and $10,[illegible] for inspectors of Ports and special services.

An appropriation of $2,000 was made at the last session of Congress, to enable the Superintendent of the Coast Survey to make observations from the highest point on the Pacific Railway.

Under the Canadian law passing a fraudulent invoice is a misdemeanor and calls for heavy punishment, viz., a fine not exceeding $200 to be imposed by the Supreme Court after a trial by jury.

An archæological correspondent adduces as evidence of the antiquity of the game of euchre, the passage in the New Testament which relates how the priest and the Levite "passed" and the good Samaritan "assisted."

A box containing a black bear was recently received at one of Wells Fargo & Co's mountain offices for shipment. Outside was this inscription: "Black Bear. If you don't want to get bit, keep your fingers out of the cracks."

At a German boarding "housen" in Chicago, common fish oil is used in the lamps. The proprietor, who evidently has a sharp eye to business, says that "it ish goot, as der boarders goes to bed so quick, 'cause he smells so bad."

A New York burglar was found in the hallway of a house with a jimmy in his possession the other day. He was promptly tried and sent to State prison for ten years. If he had only killed somebody in that hallway he might now be a free man.

The St. Louis Times says of A. H. Stephens: "The trouble with him is that he hasn't got through with the war yet. He didn't go into it until five years after its inception, and in order to do as much fighting as his fellows, can't be mustered out till some time next year."

At the opening of a breach of promise case in Kentucky, the court asked the counsel for the plaintiff how long the trial would probably last. "I can't say," replied the counsel, "but will mention as one item, that I have three hundred and eighty-four love letters, written by the defendant to my client, to be read."

It is stated that among the vessels belonging to the Sultan, destroyed by the recent terrific cyclone at Zanzibar, was the famous rebel cruiser Shenandoah. She had previously been purchased by that monarch, on account of her fine sailing qualities, and has thus closed out an eventful history in rather a violent and sudden manner.

For a specimen of the barbarism which still prevails on the American Continent, and in the face of the advanced humanitarian ideas of the age it is reported that the Mexican General Rocha, at the capture of Zacatecas killed the wounded and piled them up with those killed in the fight, after which he saturated the gory mass with turpentine and disposed of it finely by setting it on fire.

A contract has been awarded for the supply of twelve million pounds of grain to the different military posts in Arizona. This looks as if the Government had no intention of withdrawing any of its troops from that region, as was some time ago reported. The San Diego Union says considerable dissatisfaction is felt at the award; the disappointed ones claim that the average bid is not the lowest, and that the advertisement called for no average proposals, but asked for separate bids.

Remarkable Cure of Mr. Abram Tully.

San Jose, August 2, 1871.

Dr. A. M. Loryea & Co.—Some two years since I was taken down with Inflammatory Rheumatism, and was for some time treated by two physicians, but got no better. I tried nearly every remedy I heard of, but nothing seemed to do me any good, until about two weeks ago I was advised by Judge J. Johnson to try your UNK WEED REMEDY. I procured one bottle and was entirely cured. For six weeks before taking the UNK I was compelled to go upon crutches. I consider your remedy a great blessing to suffering humanity, and shall deem it my duty to inform all Rheumatics of its great virtues. Yours, etc.

CITY.

No DANGER.—In order [illegible] impression [illegible] has seemed [illegible] reference to [illegible] and we publish the following:

[illegible] plasure [illegible] small pox in the city [illegible] at the close of [illegible] All needful precautionary measures have been taken to prevent [illegible] and we have no hesitancy in stating to persons [illegible] that there is not the slightest danger from this disease [illegible]

PHILIP WASSERMAN Mayor
J B LAPPEUS Chief of Police
[illegible] CALDWELL
Auditor and Clerk

PORTLAND July 2 1872

Emanating from such an official source there can be no doubt of the authenticity of the above statement. The people from abroad can come to this city now with every assurance of safety. A large number of posters have been printed and are being circulated broadcast to satisfy the public mind that the disease does not exist now in the city.

LINE OF MARCH.—The Street Commissioners for the last few days has been going around the line of march to be observed by the procession to-morrow which is published elsewhere and has notified property owners that all obstructions must be removed, for that day at least. Along the line are several new buildings in process of erection. Permission having been granted by the Council that a certain portion of the streets could be used for building materials, etc., it could not be expected that such obstructions can be removed. But there are others such as wood drays, trucks, piles of lumber and rubbish which can be taken away and thereby greatly facilitate the passage of the crowds. The Commissioner having given the proper notice proposes to follow the thing up and see that the instructions are complied with. It is a matter in which the convenience of several thousand persons are involved and that officer's prompt action deserves the hearty commendation of the public. He reports that his efforts have not been unrewarded.

COMMITTEE MEETING.—An adjourned meeting was held of the General Committee to make arrangements for the celebration of the Fourth at Armory Hall last evening. The various sub-committees reported favorably. The committee on fire works reported that a portion of the works had been received from San Francisco and the remainder were in process of manufacture in this city. The committee therefore could not submit a report in full. The committee on finance reported that there had been collected about three thousand dollars, and the aggregate expenses to be incurred amounted to about two thousand eight hundred and fifty dollars. After arranging some minor affairs in detail the meeting adjourned to meet at the Armory Hall to-night at 9 o'clock sharp.

PERSONAL.—John Mortimer Murphy Esq. recently of the Herald arrived in the city last evening, after an extended tour through Washington Territory and British Columbia where he has been to collect material for a work on the resources, products, commerce, shipping, geology, botany, etc., of these countries but especially Washington Territory. Portland and Victoria will receive notices, as the Territory holds important communications with them. The work which is now in the hands of the printers, will be a quarto volume. Besides its extensive information, it will contain a business directory of the principal towns in Washington.

OSWEGO IRON WORKS.—Mr. Hawley of the firm of Messrs Hawley Dodd & Co., agent for the Eastern capitalists who have recently purchased the Oswego iron mine, took his departure for New York on last Saturday. He goes East to purchase iron for the new smelting stack and to secure the services of several competent and experienced men to superintend the work. It is confidently expected to have everything in full running order in six months. We learn the intention is to run a large rolling mill in connection with the works. A force of men are now engaged in clearing away a space for the new furnace.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY.—The following is the report of the Treasurer of the above Society, Mrs. Sam M. Smith, for the month of June

June 4th	Cash in Treasury	$ 61 5a
June 4th	Fines and dues	8 00
June 4th	Rent of "Home" for May	12 00
June 7th	Net proceeds of concert given by Miss Anna Mahlig for the "Home"	240 15
June 15th	Donations	2 00
	Total	$320 0
	Expenses for relief of the poor for month of June amount to	$ 94 40
	Balance in Treasury	$225 35

CHANGE OF TIME.—On and after to-morrow the following changes will take place in time of arrivals and departures of the O S N Co's steamers. Steamer Rescue, from Portland to Pumphrey's Landing, via Northern Pacific Railroad will leave Portland every day (Sunday excepted) at 6 o'clock P M will leave Kalama returning at 6 o'clock A M. The steamer Fannie Troup for Monticello, Cathlamet and Westport, will leave Portland every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, returning will leave Westport every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5 A M, touching at Monticello.

THE WALLAMET BRIDGE.—The plans for the new bridge across the river at this place are being drawn, and will be completed within the course of ten days. As soon as the ordinance which was passed at the last meeting of the Council shall have received the signature of the Mayor the plans will be filed and work commenced soon thereafter. The very important question as to where the bridge is to be located remains a mystery, and will probably continue so until work is ready to be commenced.

COW BELLS.—Persons who reside on the back streets are uttering their loud and deep protests against the habit which numerous cows have of turning themselves loose with their clamorous bells, between the hours of 7 and 9 in the morning. Slumber between those hours is the most delicious and brings the greatest rest to the body—a fact which these animals overlook. An ordinance has recently passed the Council which we hope will remedy this nuisance as soon as its provisions are enforced.

CALL TO MEMBERS.—The members of the Hibernian Benevolent Society are requested to meet at their hall at 9 o'clock A M sharp to-morrow morning, to participate in the celebration of the National Anniversary.

Members of Baker Post G. A. R. are requested to meet at their hall to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock to join in the celebration of the Fourth. A cordial invitation is extended to all honorably discharged soldiers and marines.

NEW JAIL.—Work on the new Jail and Police Court building is being rapidly pushed ahead. The interior of the second and third stories has been about completed and only requires the painter's brush to render them fit for future occupancy. This building will meet a want long felt in the city and when completed will answer the growing demands of Portland for many years to come. From appearances the building will be finished in the course of a week.

QUARTERLY EXAMINATION OF TEACHERS.—We are requested by the Superintendent of Public Schools for this county to state that in order to meet the requirements of the law he has set apart the first Saturday in the months of July, October, January and April for the public examination of teachers who may wish his certificate. In accordance with this notice there will be an examination at the North School House next Saturday beginning at 9 o'clock.

LIBERTY CAR.—We are requested to state to the young ladies who have given in their names to the Committee on Liberty Car [illegible] on [illegible] to represent the different States, to meet at the corner of Pine and First streets in the [illegible] building of Mrs Robinson at [illegible] A M to-morrow morning. There are some Territories as yet unrepresented and [illegible] the names of that number of [illegible] once.

REPORT AT ONCE.—We would again urge the fact that all persons desiring positions in the procession to-morrow [illegible] or professions should send in their [illegible] once to the Grand Marshal of the Day. [illegible] This will enable that officer to assign them their proper places in the line and will ob[illegible] viate confusion and delay on the Fourth when the procession is being formed.

[illegible].—Mr. J. W. [illegible] who has been connected with the County Clerk's office for the last three years retired from his position yesterday. Mr. D[illegible] has proven an experienced and efficient officer and by the many [illegible] has [illegible] our favors [illegible] the memories of [illegible] faithfully on [illegible] feeling of [illegible] and we far[illegible]

[illegible] yesterday [illegible] loaded with [illegible] besides eight [illegible] put the drawing powers of the [illegible] but after a good deal of [illegible] and coughing the load was pushed [illegible] the steepest portion of the grade.

ANNUAL REGATTA.—The Portland Yacht Club will hold an adjourned meeting next Monday evening. The object is to [illegible] into consideration the question of holding an annual regatta some time during the month of August. If such action should be determined upon the regatta will be open to any rowing or yacht club on the [illegible] coast.

A [illegible].—At the meeting held at the Armory last evening the sum of one hundred dollars was appropriated towards the furnishing of a cold collation at the Armory on the Fourth for the four military companies and one hundred dollars for a collation for the different fire companies.

K. OF R. C.—There will be a meeting held on Friday evening at Nonpareil Hall for the purpose of organizing a Lodge of the Knights of the Red Cross. This is a new and secret Order and is in character a sort of mystic union of Odd Fellowship and Good Templarism.

OMITTED.—In our report yesterday morning of the Deputy Clerk appointed by W. H. Harris the new County Clerk, the name of Mr. J. Durham was omitted by the compositor. Mr. Durham has been deputized to take charge of the records and papers of the County Court.

CIRCUIT COURT.—In the Circuit Court yesterday the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of the State vs Fred Smith and Thos. Frazer charged with larceny. The case of the State vs William Davidson indicted for larceny will come up for trial this morning.

REPAIRS BEGUN.—The Victoria Colonist of the 26th ult., says: The propeller California was hauled high up on the beach yesterday and operations were commenced by digging away the earth round her to ascertain damages.

NOT THE MAN.—The Chinaman Ah Look an account of whose arrest for perjury was given in our issue of yesterday morning, is not the Ah Look who has long been in the employ of J. McCraken & Co of this city.

FIREMEN'S MEETINGS.—By order of A. A. Williams Chief Engineer of the Portland Fire Department the several companies of the city will assemble at their respective engine houses to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock sharp.

ON THEIR WAY HOME.—Rev G. W. Izer and wife and Mrs Dr Dickson of this city are on their way home from their visit to Victoria and Olympia. They will probably arrive in this city on Friday afternoon.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.—The graduation exercises of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary will take place in the audience room of the Taylor street M. E. Church at 3 P. M. to-day. Admission free.

SCHEDULE TIME.—On Monday passenger and freight trains commenced to run on schedule time from Kalama to within a few miles of Pumphrey's Landing Cowlitz river on the Northern Pacific Railroad.

FREIGHT.—The following quantities of freight were brought down on last evening's train: 672 lbs eggs 158 lbs bacon 60 kegs dried apples 5 cars flour 1 cars wheat 1 car stock 11 bales paper.

ADJOURNED.—The Circuit Court adjourned yesterday afternoon. There will be no Court to-day. To-morrow being a non-judicial day the Court will not convene until Friday morning.

BALL.—A ball will be given at Armory Hall on the evening of the Fourth, under the auspices of the Portland Social Club. Dancing will commence immediately after the fireworks.

ARGUMENT CLOSED.—The argument in the United States District Court in the case of David McCuen et al vs Ship Annie M Small closed yesterday, and the cause submitted.

DIRECTORS.—There will be a meeting of the Directors of the Good Templars Hall Association this afternoon at 10 o'clock at the office of the President.

There will be an adjourned meeting of St Joseph's T. A. & B. Society this evening at 8 o'clock at their hall on Stark street.

BEACHED.—The propeller Wasp has been beached just below Flanders wharf and is undergoing some necessary repairs.

FOR THE SOUND.—Bishop Morris left this city last Thursday for the Sound. He will not return until about the 18th.

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATRICAL.—A good house was present last evening at Oro Fino Theater. The "Lover Ma[illegible]" was finely rendered by the troupe, followed by Vivian in his ever popular songs and character sketches and concluding with "Twenty Years of Labor Lost." Another attractive bill this evening.

Greeley's Hopeless Candidacy

The New York [illegible] says: There are two courses open to Democrats in the Presidential canvass—to be honorably beaten by the nomination of a man of their own party at their head or to be dishonorably beaten under the leadership of a life-long antagonist. They could not win in either case for the people are not yet ready to see them restored to power. The commercial classes do not wish to see the whole business of the country thrown into confusion; people who have money in United States securities do not like the prospect of seeing them decline in every market in the world; and the tens of thousands who are interested in the preservation of the Union [illegible] 1861 are not inclined to see the results of the war placed in jeopardy. Still the Democrats might have made a fair fight with a man of good character and consistent principles as their standard bearer. It is perhaps fortunate for the general community that they are likely to reject this prudent course in favor of one which will assuredly be their ultimate ruin. It will be impossible for any one to respect the Democratic party after it has voluntarily abandoned all its principles and marched to defeat under a man who has hitherto denounced its members as murderers, drunkards, liars and thieves. These are the mildest of the epithets which Mr Greeley has ever bestowed upon the Democrats and their gratitude for these favors—the abject way in which they are licking the hand that smote and the foot that kicked them—will complete the measure of public contempt for their precious party. There is no dishonor in being beaten in a fair stand up fight but to be beaten after you have prostrated yourself meekly before the enemy and surrendered everything to him is at once cowardly and disgraceful. This is the position the Democrats seem willing to accept and we wish them joy of it.

Hog products form no insignificant portion of the freights on the railroads from Chicago eastward. The total product the past season is [illegible] 1,000,000 pounds or 13[illegible] tons which will fill freight for 13,[illegible] cars and if it was all shipped on one line would give it about 35 car[illegible] day for the entire year. As a matter of fact this product is shipped from Chicago chiefly by four railways [illegible] months of the year.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates tropical temperate or frigid it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Germany and the Jesuits.

The Sacramento Union has an article on this subject, from which we take these extracts:

A few days ago the Pope entered his most earnest protest against the Italian Government for its impinging on the ancient rights of the church in the Roman States, appealing to the Powers of Europe for sympathy and aid, and branding upon the King of Italy a violation of international law. The immediate cause of this complaint is the threatened abolishment of the convents in the Roman States. Later still, on the 24th inst., the Pope, in an address to a German society [illegible], entered another protest against what he is pleased to call the persecution of the Catholics in Germany. He says he has notified the German Government that "this is [illegible]." He says the church will remain [illegible] in spite of the persecution of its Bishops. And he finishes the subject by a prayer that "our Father in Heaven may let fall a stone that will completely overthrow these [illegible]," meaning, by fair interpretation of the language as given in a meager dispatch, that Heaven may overthrow the German Empire. In every age of the world the church has been triumphant when its cause was just. It will be so in this if justice is on its side. If not, it will and ought to fail in the realization of this solemn prayer. The German Empire! What is it? A political consolidation of small and weak States for mutual and reciprocal protection against the strong, warlike and aggressive neighbors. What has Germany been before the consolidation? The victim of selfish powers—of Austria, Russia, France, often urged on by the Popes—too weak in any of its parts for successful resistance, dragged into ruinous and frightful wars in which no German State had an interest; Germany has suffered just as the United States would suffer without the bond of Federal Union, which makes us able to contend against all the world and to command respect everywhere. It is less charitable to the German people—40,000,000 of them—to pray that the bond which unites them politically as one Empire may be broken than the same prayer would be as applied to our 40,000,000 Americans, for separated they would be in more peril than we.

The thing which the Pope calls religious persecution resolves itself to the secular mind into nothing more nor less than a political principle upon which Germany finds herself in deadly antagonism with a part of her resident population, who choose to acknowledge paramount allegiance to the spiritual rule at Rome. Upon this idea the Jesuits have built a conspiracy for the circumvention of German unity; and this conspiracy brings them as men and subjects at war with the civil authorities and face to face with Bismarck, whose theory is that the civil is and shall be the governing power in the State. The Jesuits are as inexorably the supporters of the old rule of Catholic Europe, perfected by Charles V. and Philip II., that the Church is superior to the State, and the Pope an authority over kings and parliaments. In such a war what is to be done? Either what the German Parliament has resolved upon—the expulsion of the conspirators—or the surrender of the idea of German unity. The latter is not for a moment to be thought of. The spirit of the age is against it, and the highest interests of 40,000,000 people. Germany has no choice but to fight the battle through to the bitter end, or sink into that utter insignificance to which the Popes first and Napoleon afterwards reduced her by means of dividing her people and then conquering them.

A Nation of Pigmies.—To the South of Kaffa and Susa, there is a very sultry and humid country, with many bamboo woods, inhabited by the race called Dakos, who are no bigger than boys of ten years old; that is, only four feet high. They have a dark olive-colored complexion, and live in a complete savage state, like the beasts; having neither houses, temples, nor holy trees, like the Gallas, yet possessing something like an idea of a higher being called Yer, to whom, in moments of wretchedness and anxiety, they pray—not in an erect position, but reversed, with the head on the ground, and the feet supported upright against a tree or stone. In prayer, they say "Yer, if thou really dost exist, why dost thou allow us thus to be slain? We do not ask thee for food or clothing, for we live on serpents, ants, and mice. Thou hast made us; why dost thou permit us to be trodden under foot?" The Dakos have no chief, no laws, no weapons; they do not hunt nor till the ground, but live solely on fruits, roots, mice, serpents, honey, and the like; climbing trees and gathering the fruit like monkeys; and both sexes go completely naked.

They do not marry, but live indiscriminative lives of animals, multiplying very rapidly, and with very little parental instinct. The mother nurses her child for only a short time, accustoming it to eat ants and serpents as soon as possible; and when it can help itself, it wanders away where it will, and the mother thinks no more about it.

They have thick, protruding lips, flat noses, and small eyes; the hair is not wooly, and is worn by the women over the shoulders. The nails on the hands and feet are allowed to grow long, like the talons of vultures, and are used in digging for ants and in tearing to pieces the serpents, which they devour raw, for they are unacquainted with fire. The spine of the snake is the only ornament worn around the neck, but they pierce the ears with a sharp pointed piece of wood.—Dr. Krapf's Travels in Eastern Africa.

What is Insanity.—At a murder trial in Memphis, Kentucky, wherein an attempt to establish insanity was made on the part of the defence, Dr. J. R. Allen was called as an expert, and testified as follows: "I have been a practicing physician for nearly thirty years; I have had some experience in cases of insanity, having been for ten years medical superintendent of the Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, and during that time had over 2,000 crazy people under my charge. I have heard the hypothetical case read by Mr. Phelan. I am here as an expert, and before answering the question would like to say that the more I studied the question of insanity the less I understood it, and if you ask me where it begins and where it ends, neither I nor any physician in the world could tell you; in fact, on occasions like this, lawyers make fools of themselves in trying to make asses of doctors."

There has been a remarkable combination of surgical and agricultural operations at Waterbury, Conn. A girl employed in a factory there had her hair caught in the machinery and her scalp entirely peeled off. It was impossible to induce a new scalp to grow and without it the girl must die, though her general health was good. So the doctor began the process of transplanting the skin from other parts of her body, and what was doubtless more agreeable to her, from the bodies of her friends. All had an opportunity of testifying their regard and sympathy for the unfortunate girl by contributing of their abundance of skin to cover her scalp, and now it is complete and she is rapidly getting well.

Anonymous Letters.—A writer says: "Perhaps of all the actions into which the evil passions of humanity are led, there is none more base than that of writing an anonymous letter. It is a moral assassination, committed by a masked murderer—a lie without an author—the mean-spirited act of the disreputable coward, in whose heart gall has replaced the wholesome blood, and whose malice, jealousy and revenge vent themselves in slander. I would as soon trust my purse with a thief, my friendship with the hangman, take a serpent in my hand, or a liar to my heart, as to hold communion of love, friendship or interest with the writer of an anonymous letter."

The State of Honduras is trying to borrow from English capitalists $12,000,000. With this sum it intends to build a ship railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Enormous [illegible] locks will be constructed in which a steamship can be raised to the level of the proposed road, placed on tramways, and dragged by [illegible] across the Isthmus. The projector, an engineer by the name of Brunlees, [illegible] to transfer any vessel which does not exceed [illegible] tons.

The President has recognized [illegible] Consul-General of Guatemala for California, Oregon, Nevada, and the Pacific Territories.

The San Francisco [illegible] is trying to prove [illegible]

Georgia Democracy on Greeley.

From the Savannah News, June 11th.

We think it would be bad policy for the Baltimore Convention to endorse Mr. Greeley. Speaking for this State alone, we are quite sure it would be disastrous. We have been very careful in giving the results of the primary meetings in the different counties, and it is apparent from these that the opposition to the Greeley movement, which has developed within the past few weeks, is both widespread and [illegible]. Fifteen counties [illegible] the proposed alliance [illegible] several instances [illegible] as in the counties of Troup and Harris, and [illegible]. It is quite useless to attempt to disguise the plain fact. If Greeley is endorsed by the Baltimore Convention, the campaign in Georgia will be disastrous to the Democracy, will result in division and bitterness, will bring about discord and dissension, and will carry the State back to the days of carpet-bag rule. The demoralization will be complete, and we fear final.

But we warn the politicians now that the endorsement of Greeley by the Baltimore Convention will dispose the Democratic party, not only in this State, but throughout the South. In the event of such nomination the State of Georgia will go for Grant by 20,000 majority. Thousands of Democrats will remain away from the polls rather than stultify themselves by voting for Greeley. We have received hundreds of letters since the Cincinnati Convention, wherein the writers give expression to their utter abhorrence of the proposed alliance, and state their intention of remaining idle and inactive spectators in the campaign in which they, as Democrats, can have no possible interest. There is not a county in the State of Georgia where the Democrats will unanimously unite on Greeley.

It is said that the British Government proposes to assist in the construction of railroads in South Africa. The Colonial Secretary has announced in a dispatch, now on its way to Natal, that the Imperial Government will so far depart from its ordinary rule as to refuse its sanction to the making of railways by a subsidised company by means of moneys borrowed on the security of the public revenue. The present proposition is to connect Natal and the Orange Free State by railway communication. This project, if carried out, will be the entering wedge of a comprehensive railroad system for South Africa, that will, before many years, extend far into the regions of Dr. Livingstone's explorations.

A baker's dozen of judges, the Lord Chief Baron and two Lord Chief Justices, in England, are in an inextricable maze. A Mr. Allen, having lost his wife, as widowers will, married again. But being rather polygamous, Mr. Allen married a niece of his first wife while his second wife was still living. Still, he claims, he can neither be punished for bigamy nor for marrying within the prohibited degrees of relationship, as, having a wife still living, this was not a valid marriage. So he will probably go scot free.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Tuesday Evening, July 2, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 113¼.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 85c buying; 89c selling.

The steamship Telfair is receiving cargo for Victoria and Puget Sound, and will sail to-morrow Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock.

Since July 1st there has been a reduction of 12½c per pound on Teas in this market, caused by the removal of the duty.

Considerable quantities of freight are now going forward to the Umpqua Valley. Orders have also been received from Jacksonville. It is believed that when the railroad is finished to Roseburg the trade of Rogue River valley will be supplied mainly from Portland.

A San Francisco journal reports that a few days ago several lots of Oregon Flour, Imperial Extra, were sent to New York, to St. Joseph, Missouri, and to Atchison and Leavenworth, Kansas.

A dispatch from Washington, June 18, states that so far only three national gold banks have gone into operation, two of which are in California with a capital of $1,000,000 each, and the other in Boston, with a capital of $300,000. Applications are now on file in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency for the establishment of other gold banks at Sacramento, Stockton and Oakland, Cal. No applications have been received from New York or other cities than those mentioned.

The London Economist says:

Although a large amount of gold has been received in London very little of it has gone into the vaults of the Bank of England. The bulk has been taken abroad on account of the German war indemnity account. Until France shall have discharged this enormous obligation Germany promises to be a perfect maelstrom of the precious metals, something like the great "drain of specie to the East," which has prevailed for over two thousand years. This payment of the German indemnity cannot fail to exercise a powerful and sinister influence upon the trade of the world. Financial men will rejoice when the last franc is paid.

The Agricultural Bureau reports that the average per centage of increase of area planted in cotton this year, as compared with last, is thirteen per cent. The condition of the plant throughout the cotton section is a full average. Hence a larger yield than last year's is expected.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President:
ULYSSES S. GRANT,
Of Illinois.

For Vice President:
HENRY WILSON,
Of Massachusetts.

For Presidential Electors,
W. D. HARE, of Washington.
[illegible]
[illegible]

Election Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1872.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured those amendments.

4. The National Government should seek to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of the civil service under which the subordinate positions of the government are considered rewards for mere party zeal is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a life tenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of the public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the national domain be set apart for free homes for the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current expenditures, [illegible] the principal of the public debt, should, except [illegible] may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties upon importations, the details of which should be so adjusted as to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor, and to promote the industries, growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for their country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the line of duty became disabled, without regard to the length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance—"once a subject always a subject"—having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Governments, and we urge continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way prepared for reduction in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom; their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the state and federal governments. It disapproves of resorting constitutional [illegible] of [illegible] by [illegible] the States or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day upon a new march to victory.
